REGARDING: ANSI/BHMA Certification Label

Total Door is pleased to announce that we are the first manufacturer to physically label product to ANSI/BHMA standard. This new permanent label will make it easy for the end user or building inspector to verify that Total Door has been certified to the ANSI/BHMA 156.32 standard.

The new certification label is intended to be a permanent label. If an attempt is made to remove the label, it is rendered void in the process. You will find this new label in the lower portion of the locking channel.

Total Door Systems is currently the only product certified to ANSI/BHMA 156.32
