Program: Integrated Fire and Smoke Door Systems: Specifying Your Own Safety Net

Credits: 1 HSW: Yes

Description: Length: 1 Hour – In this course we will discuss integrated doors systems, sustainability, compliance, and code. We will understand the importance of smoke and fire protection in various applications and vertical markets and how with the proper protection from integrated door systems, you can save lives. We will present benefits of the integrated door system for fire and smoke. As a learner, you will have the opportunity to see real life examples and apply those to current buildings. You will see how and when to use these systems and the simplicity there is when so much weight is on your shoulders.

Learning Objectives:

- Evaluate the importance of fire and smoke protection systems.
- Know the code surrounding fire and smoke door systems.
- How to discover and recommend integrated door systems applications.
- Identify the benefits of integrated door systems.

Method of Instruction: The CES facilitator utilizes a PowerPoint presentation to deliver a comprehensive course covering relevant issues for architects dealing with fire and life safety as it relates to openings.

A/V Needed: Electrical power and a screen for the presentation. The CES facilitator will provide the necessary laptop computer and will coordinate with the on-site professional development administrator to make provisions for projection equipment.

Target Audience: Architects, Engineers, Specifiers, Owners and other design professionals serving the commercial and industrial market. The recommended audience size is between 6 and 25 professionals. The program is suitable for professionals of varying experience level and includes a question and answer period at the end of the program.

Facilitator Qualifications: All Total Door Systems representatives have been trained on CES guidelines and presentation skills.

Costs: This program is offered at no cost.
